This is a collection intended to represent the more 'Collegiate', no-frills, straight-forward design work of mine. What I'd like to showcase here is font usage, linework, minimalism sensibilities and a good balance of elements.

FREELANCE PREVIOUSLY

My name is Kirk and I am an illustrator, graphic designer, barbarian warrior and exaggerator. I live in sunny Southern California with my wife and son where I do my best to always be creating. I am addicted to all forms of art and spend as much time between flickering screens as possible working on various projects. Designing and drawing has been my profession for over 20 years and it has ranged across the board. I have been a part of and have led incredible teams through awesome projects and look forward to the next challenge.

If you like, please contact me via kirkmuesse@gmail.com and keep checking kirkmuesse.com as I will update regularly.
